TO HELL AND BACK: THE LEGEND OF ORPHEUS & EURYDICE San Diego Public Library Launches "Mythology Talk" Series

San Diego, CA. The San Diego Public Library will launch an occasional series entitled MYTHOLOGY TALK exploring the founding myths, epics and stories of peoples and nations and the relevance of these to life in the 21st century on Wednesday, September 23 at 6:30 p.m. in the Wangenheim Room of the Central Library located at 820 E Street. The series is designed as a fun opportunity to explore how myth resonates in everyday life and invigorates culture. The first "mythology talk," To Hell and Back: The Legend of Orpheus & Eurydice, is on the story of Orpheus and Eurydice. This free event is open to the public and is part of the 50th anniversary celebration of the film Black Orpheus, the Oscar-winning cinematic retelling of the Orpheus myth set during Carnival in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Given the gift of songs by the gods, the legendary figure of Orpheus is venerated as a chief among poets and musicians whose music and singing could charm wildlife, coax the trees and rocks into dance, and even divert the course of rivers. He uses his talent to soften the hearts of Hades and Persephone, lords of the Underworld, to rescue his dead wife Eurydice back to the world of the living. Join Dr. Charles Chamberlain of UCSD in a discussion of the classic legend to help understand the basis of the forthcoming film and book discussions occurring in September and October as part of the Black Orpheus celebrations.
